Information Bulletin Regarding Foreclosures

As many of you already know there are many foreclosures taking place all over the Las Vegas valley. We are providing you this information so that you can determine whether or not the loan on the rental you live in is in default.

If a loan is in default, it means that at the very least the current payment has not been made, and the date shown will tell you how far behind an owner is on payments.

To check on the status of your rental home, just go to the Clark County Recorder's Office website and click the link, currently found under the 'Announcements' heading which says '10 Steps to Find Out if your Rental Home is in Foreclosure'.

This is the URL for the Recorder's Office website:

Any questions or concerns should be addressed to your Property Manager.
